

Our Quality & Regulatory Expertise:

Supporting successful local production

As suppliers scale-up their local and regional manufacturing, assuring robust quality assurance and regulatory systems is critical. Suppliers must have an ability to rapidly respond to crises while establishing resilience and continuity during incidents, surges in demand and the product life cycle. ProCure Advisory offers expert and tailored support to manufacturers and the value chain to meet international standards, so that suppliers can successfully deliver to governments and other customers. Our expertise is enhanced by our deep understanding of procurement and financing of health supplies and the buyers' perspective.
